3. How We Use the Information We Collect

The Personal Information we collect, and the practices described above, are undertaken to provide you with the best experience possible, protect you from risks related to improper use and fraud, and help us maintain and improve Propstore offerings. We may use your Personal Information to:

- Provide You with Propstore Services. Propstore uses your Personal Information to provide you with its Services and Site pursuant to its Terms of Use for the Site and this Privacy Notice.
- Comply with Legal and Regulatory Requirements. Propstore processes your Personal Information as required by applicable laws and regulations.
- Protect the Security and Integrity of Our Site. Propstore uses your Personal Information to further our security practices related to Personal Information.
- Optimize and Enhance Our Services. Propstore uses your Personal Information to understand how our Services are being used to help us improve our Services.
- Customer and Consignor Feedback Surveys. Propstore may contact you via email to ask you to complete surveys and feedback forms. We do this to improve our customer and consignor services and the products we offer. You are under no obligation to respond to such requests.
- Market Our Services to You. Propstore may contact you with information about our Services. We will only do so with your permission, which can be revoked at any time.
- Other Business Purposes. Propstore may use your information for additional purposes if that purpose is disclosed to you before we collect the information or if we obtain your consent.

We may use the Personal Information we collect or receive through the Site and Services (alone or in combination with other data we source) for the purposes and on the legal bases identified below:

- To perform our contract with you for use of the Site and Services or, where we have not entered into a contract with you, in accordance with our legitimate interests to operate and administer our Site and Services.
- To enforce compliance with our contractual obligations and applicable law, and to protect your rights and safety in reliance on our legitimate interest to protect against misuse or abuse of our Site and Services and to pursue available remedies.
- To meet legal requirements, including complying with court orders, valid discovery requests, valid subpoenas, and other appropriate legal mechanisms.

7. Retention of Data

Propstore Global Privacy Notice
PRIVILEGED / CONFIDENTIAL / WORK PRODUCT

We retain Personal Information where we have an ongoing legitimate business or legal need to do so. Our retention periods will vary depending on the type of data involved, but, generally, we refer to these criteria in order to determine retention period:

- Whether we have a legal or contractual need to retain the data;
- Whether the data is necessary to provide our Site and Services; and
- Whether our consumers would reasonably expect that we would retain the data until they remove it or until their accounts are closed or terminated.

When we have no ongoing legitimate business need to process your Personal Information, we will either delete or anonymize it or, if this is not possible (for example, because your Personal Information has been stored in backup archives), then we will securely store your Personal Information and cease any further processing until deletion is possible.

8. Security

No security is foolproof, and the Internet is an insecure medium. We cannot guarantee absolute security, but we work hard to protect Propstore and you from unauthorized access to or unauthorized alteration, disclosure, or destruction of Personal Information that we collect and store.

We have security processes in place to comply with applicable federal and state standards. This includes physical safeguards (e.g., locked files and a secured building) and electronic safeguards (e.g., encrypted computers, strong passwords, and restricted access).

Propstore also trains its employees and representatives on the proper handling of Personal Information, the confidentiality of Personal Information, and their duty to take reasonable steps to safeguard it.

9. Third-Party Applications and Integrations

Propstore may utilize third-party applications and integrations to enhance its experience. We disclaim any and all liability and responsibility for the use of these applications and integrations, and we encourage you to review their individual privacy policies before using our Site or otherwise engaging with us. We disclaim any and all liability and responsibility for the use of these applications and integrations and encourage you to review any individual privacy notice related to those applications and integrations.

YOUR PRIVACY RIGHTS – CALIFORNIA

To the extent the law applies to Propstore, we are required under the California Consumer Privacy Act (“CCPA”), as amended, to provide certain information to California residents about how we collect, use, and share their Personal Information in our capacity as a business, and about the rights and choices California residents may have concerning their Personal Information. For purposes of this section,

Propstore Global Privacy Notice
PRIVILEGED / CONFIDENTIAL / WORK PRODUCT

“Personal Information” has the meaning provided in the CCPA.

This section applies only to California residents. As a California resident, you have the rights listed below. However, these rights are not absolute, and, in certain cases, we may decline your request as permitted by law. To exercise any of these rights, please email privacy@propstore.com. Only you, or someone legally authorized to act on your behalf, may make a request related to your Personal Information.

The following disclosures are made in compliance with the CCPA, as amended. In the past twelve (12) months, we have collected the Personal Information described above, and disclosed it to the third parties listed under the section “How We Share Personal information We Collect” for the business purposes identified therein and under the section “How We Use Personal Information We Collect.” This information falls into the following categories of Personal Information under the CCPA:

- Identifiers;
- Categories of Personal Information described in section 1798.80(e) of the California Civil Code;
- Characteristics of protected classifications under California or federal law;
- Commercial information;
- Geolocation information;
- Audio, electronic, or visual information;
- Internet or electronic network activity information;
- Professional or employment-related information; and
- Sensitive personal information.

As disclosed above in “How We Share Personal information We Collect,” we may engage in activity that may be considered “sharing” Personal Information. If you wish to opt-out of this use of your Personal Information, click here: Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information.

We do not use or disclose Sensitive Personal Information for purposes other than those specified in Cal. Code Regs. tit. 11, § 7027(m).

Below is a summary of your rights under the CCPA. Please note that these rights are not absolute, and, in certain cases, we may decline your request as permitted by law.
