What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file that is placed on your computer, mobile phone, or other device when you visit a website. The cookie will help website providers to recognise your device the next time you visit their website. Propstore uses the term "cookies" in this policy to refer to cookies and all such similar technologies that collect information in this way.

What types of cookies does Propstore use and why?

Cookies that are strictly necessary for essential Website purposes

These cookies are strictly necessary for essential Website purposes, for example to ensure that your interaction with the Website is uninterrupted and to store information relating to the contents of your shopping basket.

Without these cookies, services you have asked for, like secure login and payment pages, cannot be provided.

Functionality and performance cookies

These cookies serve a variety of purposes related to the presentation, performance and functionality of this Website. Their overall purpose is to enhance visitors experience and enjoyment of this Website.

For example, these cookies help us remember details you entered on a previous visit to save you having to re-enter them. Others enable you to specify your preferred language or other website preferences, such as not seeing an in-house advertising pop-up. Some may also be used to provide services you have asked for such as watching a video or commenting on a product.

Analytics cookies

These cookies collect information that is used either in aggregate form to help us understand how the Website is being used or how effective our marketing campaigns are, or to help us customise the Website for you.

We use this information to help run our Website more efficiently, to gather broad demographic information and to monitor the level of activity on our Website.
